The purposes of this research were to develop an instructional package by using cartoons to enhance English reading abilities of Prathomsuksa Six students based on the 70/70 standard criteria, and to study the level of the student satisfaction toward the learning. The subjects of this study were Prathomsuksa Six students at Watbangsapan school, in the first semester of the academic year 2008. The data were collected by using the standard test of English reading abilities and a survey to determine the level of student satisfaction with instructional package. The statistics used in the data analysis were arithmetic mean (\bar{x}), standard deviation (S.D.), and dependent t-test.

The result of this study revealed that the efficiency of the instructional package was 88.08/79.65 which was higher than the standard level 70/70.

The English reading abilities of the students after learning this package was significantly higher than before learning this package at .05. The results also showed that the satisfaction toward the learning through the package was at a high level.
